

The Cruz the Coos Route...

Wheels start turning at 6 p.m. on Saturday evening as vintage cars of yesteryear will cruise the streets on the route listed in the map below:

A photograph of a steam-powered traction engine pulling a carriage with two horses on a city street. The engine is red and black, with a large white smokestack. The carriage is red and black, and the horses are brown and white. The street is paved and there are buildings in the background.

[illegible]

[illegible]