The Friday Update

New businesses and businesses on the move...

The Coos Head Food Co-Op has opened up for business at their new location at 353 S. 2nd Street. The company is committed to building a healthy community through wholesome food and products. They have been in business since 1971, and they have served Oregon's Bay Area by operating a socially responsible business offering quality, local, sustainable, and organic choices.

Coos Head Food Co-op welcomes everyone, and membership is not required to shop. If you would like more information, you can go to: <http://coosheadfoodcoop.org/> or call them at: (541) 756-7264.

Canard Labs has opened at their new location at 147 South Broadway in the Hub Building. They are the mad-scientist makers of soap, facial cleaners, and cream products of all sorts. You can find their website at: <http://www.canardlabs.com> or just give them a call 541-888-3356.

Stan Blackwell has been making folks look good since the 1970's. He recently moved his barber shop from 530 North Broadway to 791 Commercial Street in Coos Bay. Police Department Welcomes Two New Members...

Last month Jordan Moeller joined the ranks of the Coos Bay Police Department after completing an extremely competitive and extensive hiring process. Officer Moeller filled the vacancy created when Detective Randy Sparks retired after a 30 year career.

Officer Moeller graduated from North Bend High School in 2010, and he subsequently graduated from Southwestern Oregon Community College in 2012 with an Associate's degree in Criminal Justice.

Officer Moeller has been a Reserve Police Officer with the Coos Bay Police Department since 2013. Officer Moeller's wife, Allison, just finished her education and training as a nurse.

The Police Department recently filled another vacancy at the Department by the hiring of Chelsea Frietag as a 911 Dispatcher. The vacancy was created with the retirement of Communications Supervisor Tia Akers.

Chelsea is a 2001 graduate of Bandon High School, and she later attended SWOCC's nursing program. Chelsea and her husband, Aaron, have three children - twin boys and a daughter.

It's Been a Busy Summer at the Library...

With the end of August, came the end of this year's Summer Reading at the Library. This summer the library featured programs on raptors, big rigs, natural history, cultural history, and more.

In addition, all ages participated in the read at home portion of the program. Parents and caregivers with children under four completed early literacy activities, and they were rewarded with books to build a home library. Children and teens tracked their reading and earned books and prizes donated by local businesses. Adults had their own reading logs in order to earn special prizes. Over 550 reading logs were completed during the 2 1/2 month period.

A special thank you to all the sponsors: Dutch Bros. Coffee, Coos Art Museum, Wendy's, Oregon State Fair, Egyptian Theater, The Oregon Connection, McDonalds, Joey's Arcade, Papa Murphy's, Pottery Co., and Friends of Coos Bay Library.

Coos Bay's Brownfields Action Committee will hold an open house on September 15, 2016 at the Coos Bay Historical Maritime Museum located at 1210 N. Front Street. The Open House will be from 6:00 to 8:00 pm, and refreshments will be provided. The open house will feature a presentation by the design and land use consultants who have been hired to formulate and present a Front Street Area Plan.

The major components of the proposed plan include:

- Connectivity within the Front Street study area focused on pedestrian and bicycle and automotive access.
- Completing an infrastructure assessment, recreational components.
- Conducting a market analysis.

The City wants to hear from you about how to improve our waterfront in the Front Street area. Specifically:

- What kinds of investments should the City make?
- What incentives should be available for business owners and developers?
- How can the community play a part in the redevelopment of our waterfront?

There will be a presentation about the current opportunities and barriers to development followed by your ideas and questions.
