MINGUS PARK POOLHOUSE CONSTRUCTION – The voters of the City of Coos Bay approved a $500,000 bond issue to pay for a new poolhouse at Mingus Park. Together with the new pool made possible through an anonymous donation, the City of Coos Bay is going to have a truly first-class facility in Mingus Park. It will take about five months to build the new poolhouse – that’s five months that must include some “good weather time” between May and September. And that’s five months that must fit within the priorities for use of the Mingus Park Pool – water safety lessons for Coos Bay kids, recreational and lap swimming, high school events, and so on. Balancing all that out has been difficult; lots of work went into the choices that have been made.

Everyone is very sensitive to the summer being a great time to use the pool, the preference would have been not to close at all. We looked into using Sanicans and portable changing rooms to stay open during construction, but the Health Department said no. We considered a fence between the pool and the poolhouse construction site and found the liability issues just too large to overcome. When the City Council authorized the bidding for the poolhouse construction project, we talked about these issues. The schedule we settled on isn’t perfect, granted, but it creates the least possible pain for the great deal to be gained.

Mingus Park Pool Management, the organization that operates the pool for the City, is fortunate to have a great working relationship with North Bend. All of the traditional summer activities are available at North Bend during the summer – Red Cross lessons, lifesaving and lifeguard training, recreational and lap swim time and team training. Few communities are so lucky to have an option like this. The availability of the North Bend facility was a definite consideration in coming to the scheduling decision.

We all recognize that it would be preferable not to close the pool at all. And we recognize that having a brand new pool that won’t be used during the summer this year is a hard choice to make and a hard choice to understand. In the interests of achieving the long-term gain the voters approved, we need to bear the short-term pain of having the pool closed for a while. We can all look forward to the new pool AND the new poolhouse which will serve us well for a long, long time.

GOVERNOR'S CONFERENCE ON TOURISM – Kay Heikkila took the lead when she bid on the conference in 1996. Shortly after Cindi Miller (Coos Bay City Council President) and Ann Kopyy (Director of the Coos County Historical Society) were elected to Co-Chair this major undertaking. Everyone on the South Coast from Florence to Brookings worked to make the conference a success.

Pre-Conference activities included The Miss Coos County Scholarship Pageant, Lighthouse tours, A Bay cruise, beach walks, A special opening at the Coos Art Museum, and a performance for conference attendees to see "A Gathering of Finches".

Sunday morning we picked up our gift bags and the first thing we noticed was a beautiful green umbrella. Of course we didn't need it, but it served as a kind of security blanket. The Sunday night Ice-Breaker at The Mill Resort and Casino was a major success. The room was perfect with different sections telling the story of Coos County and the Southern Oregon Coast. For instance there was a beach area, a forest area, a logging camp, and a virtual museum of Coquille Indian basket weaving with a history of the tribe seen through photos. This event was simply outstanding and the Ice-breaker committee is to be congratulated!

On Monday after listening to various speakers and going to workshops everyone jumped on busses for a trip to Shore Acres where a fabulous seafood dinner was served. the North Bend Jazz Band provided music for dancing or just listening. People visited, danced, and just plain enjoyed themselves!

The Conference wrapped up on Tuesday afternoon for most of the attendees. However, it wasn't over for the Conference Committee who dismantled walls, took down trees, and returned plants, benches, and other items to their owners. We had a lot of help from the City of Coos Bay, BLM, Chamber members, and of course, Cindi Miller, Ann Kopyy and a lot of other volunteers.

Thursday, April 15th we met for debriefing. We agreed that the Conference was a total success. We proved we could do it. We'd do it again! Kudos to everyone who worked so hard to bring this outstanding conference to Oregon's Bay Area.
