53 yr old man assaults 15 yr old juvenile with chair

On Wednesday, October 23, 2013, Coos Bay Police responded to Abby's Pizza, 997 S. 1st St, Coos Bay for a 911 report of a man assaulting a juvenile with a chair. The call was made to 911 at 9:42 pm. The caller reported the man picked up a chair and threw it at a 15 year old male juvenile inside the restaurant, then began punching the juvenile. The man left the restaurant prior to officers arriving on scene.

According to witnesses, the man became agitated with a group of teenagers who had gathered at the restaurant after performing at a choir concert at Marshfield High School. The teenagers were laughing and singing, and the man started yelling and cursing at them. One teenager, the 15 year old male juvenile victim, approached the man to apologize for the group. The man picked up a chair and threw it at the juvenile, striking him, then began punching the juvenile to the head and face. The man then ran from the restaurant with his female companion.

A parent of one of the teenagers followed the man and woman, informing Police they went inside a room at the Edgewater Inn, a local hotel. Police contacted the man, identifying him as 53 year old Roseburg resident Cameron Filley. Filley was taken into custody without incident and transported to the Coos County Jail. He was charged with Assault III, a class C felony, with bail set at $25,000. His female companion was not charged. The victim's father took him to Bay Area Hospital, where he was treated and released for minor injuries sustained during the assault.

Cameron Filley, 53, of Roseburg
