Patrick Camozzi, children's singer/songwriter/author from Montreal, Canada will be performing at Coos Bay Public Library on Saturday, February 9th at 11:00 a.m.

Camozzi has been a professional children's entertainer since 2003, and he has traveled and performed extensively in his native Canada, always to rave reviews. Dubbed "Neil Young for Kids" he will bring original songs about growing up, school and parents from his two albums titled Even Kids get the Blues and Even Kids get Country. Camozzi was born in the Kootenay Mountains of British Columbia. Camozzi worked in advertising before becoming a professional musician and author. He still teaches marketing and advertising part-time at Concordia University's Continuing Education Department during the winter months. His performance at Coos Bay Library is part of his first three month tour of the United States.

This fun, interactive show promises to be great entertainment for the whole family, so come celebrate Valentine's Day by laughing at his songs, singing along, and even learning to play spoons to accompany his guitar and harmonica.

The Friends of the Coos Bay Library sponsor all programs. The 45-minute program is free, and all ages are welcome to attend. For more information please visit the Coos Bay Public Library at 525 Anderson Avenue or call 541-269-1101.
